MSS30322 Certificate III in Competitive Systems and Practices

The MSS30322 Certificate III in Competitive Systems and Practices specifies the competencies required to apply competitive systems and practices to one's own work as well as, where required, to assist others to apply competitive systems and practices to their work. This qualification provides a mixture of introductory and more advanced skills in competitive systems and practices.

KEY OUTCOMES

- Apply workplace policies and procedures to maintain a safe work environment for self and others, identifying work health and safety (WHS) hazards, assessing risk and following safety procedures in the workplace with minimal supervision.
- Apply basic improvement concepts and practices and recognise your role in the value chain, apply improvement methods within the organisation's competitive systems and practices and contribute ideas to the improvement process.
- Analyse tools and diagrams and/or charts in formal problem solving to root cause.
- Review key performance areas of competitive systems and practices in a team or work area and improve performance and/or integration with the broader competitive systems and practices context.
- Effectively analyse the workplace in relation to environmentally sustainable work practices, and to implement improvements and monitor their effectiveness.
- Prevent improvements in own work from slipping back to former or other less efficient practices
- Identify and implement 5S practices to make improvements in own job and work area.
- Apply proactive maintenance procedures to own work and equipment and/or plant.

- Identify and visually document the sequence and interactions of steps and other aspects of a process that delivers a specified and measurable result, such as a product, deliverable or service.
- Shift materials safely using manual handling methods including assessing the risks associated with relocating the load, planning the relocation process and carrying out the relocation in accordance with the plan.
- Complete workplace induction procedures including identifying major workplace areas in terms of functions, organisational structures and roles, organising and accepting responsibility for own workload, and following workplace practices. It also includes participating in identifying and meeting own learning needs and planning and organising a personal daily routine.
